

Receive a Free Children's Book for Your Class and Support Literacy in Connecticut

Take an informal poll of your students to find the most popular children's book. The selection of titles is not limited to the ones mentioned on this flyer.

Samuel Brown, Ph.D. is a retired library director with an interest in literacy and children's books. He will purchase two copies of the most popular title. The first will be sent via US mail to your classroom. The second will be sent to Dr. Brown. He will affix a bookplate to the book in honor of your class and drop it off at Read to Grow, an organization that promotes language skills and literacy for children.

Send the following information to Dr. Brown via email or US mail by December 31, 2023:

- Name of the book
- Room number and grade of your class
- Address of your school
